1. FX4Cash Currencies – an overview

The table below lists all the currencies that are offered via FX4Cash, the payment methods supported for each currency and a brief summary of requirements/restrictions for the trade and payments in each of those currencies. Further details can be found in the section 'Detailed FX4Cash Currency Guide' of this document. Please note that supporting credit settlement lines are required for pre-Spot trades, i.e. Same-Day and Next
-Day FX trades.

Rates will generally be provided on the day requested for requests made during the open hours for the FX4Cash service. Except where specified otherwise, the open hours for FX4Cash run from the opening of foreign exchange trading in Auckland, New Zealand on Monday morning through the close of foreign exchange trading in New York on Friday.

* The currencies marked with a '*' symbol have additional documentation requirements and/or other restrictions.

 The currencies marked with the '' symbols and highlighted in red text have Pre-trade setup and/or documentation requirements. Consequently the rates offered via FX4Cash for these currencies are valid only in case all the pre-trade requirements have been fulfilled prior to DB receiving the trade/payment instruction. In all other instances, the rates supplied by DB for these currencies are merely indicative. The trades would be settled at rates that are applicable at the point of time when all documentation and setup requirements have been fulfilled. Those rates may be different from the ones supplied by DB prior to your completion of the documentation and setup requirements being completed.

With respect to ensuring all flows passing through FX4Cash are compliant, the following must be considered / adhered to:

– Client (Originator) must always provide complete Beneficiary account number and name of the Beneficiary. Although not mandatory, it is recommended to provide the complete Beneficiary address, as well.

Note: In countries where beneficiary information is mandatory, the existing requirements outlined within the currency guide must be followed.

– When Deutsche Bank is the Payer's PSP, Deutsche Bank will always populate the information on the Originator (Name and Address) with the static KYC data to ensure that the information is accurate. If the Originator initiates the payment transaction from its account held with DB (Payer's PSP DB entity), that account number has to be transmitted. If the Originator is not holding an account with DB (Payer's PSP DB entity) / is not initiating the payment transaction from this account, a "unique transaction identifier" must be transmitted instead of the non-existent Originator's account number.

> NOTE: FX trade limits increase and decrease in line with market liquidity. A number of factors such as the Amount/Size of the trade, Tenor, the Time of the day and the Currencies involved play a role in determining the market liquidity for that pair at that point in time. As a general rule, currency pairs involving the currencies of the G10 countries have significantly higher trade limits than the more exotic ones.
> However, for certain exotic currencies - regardless of the market liquidity - a maximum cap of USD 5 Million per trade (for 'Real-time' rates) has been set by DB. These currencies are highlighted as such in the sections below and the USD 5 Million that is indicated in the table below applies strictly to 'Real-time' rates.
>
> For the 24-hour 'Fixed' rates offered via FX4Cash, DB limits the trades to an aggregate maximum of USD 2.5 Million per day, per currency pair (for each client).
> There are exception processes that have been put in place in the event there are clients that require trades greater than the listed maximums for Fixed and Real-time rates. Please get in touch with your Client Service Officer in case you do anticipate payments that are above the limits mentioned in this document.

Summary of Restrictions:	– Spot trades only. – Due to the Middle Eastern weekend, Fridays are not good settlement day. – Offshore / Non-resident clients can order the purchase of the local currency, as long as it is for onward payment to Onshore residents. Recipient may be required to evidence its right to receive such funds before they can be finally settled – Investments should be made via the onshore custodian. Loans will need to be registered with the Central Bank in order to qualify for expatriation of re-payments. NGOs need to provide up-to-date registration documents in order to receive funds. – Strict exchange controls restrict the movement of funds in and out of the country; Approval from Central Bank is required for every transaction – Supporting documentation typically need to be provided by the onshore beneficiary – Return of funds, even where they have been sent in error or for cancellation of trade, can be complicated and time-consuming (typically taking weeks for the funds to be returned) – Maximum (real-time rate) Trade Limit: USD 5 Million per FX trade. Please contact us for larger amounts. – Clients based in India cannot initiate payments to Bangladesh (BDT), Pakistan (PKR), Sri Lanka (LKR) and Nepal (NPR) through FX4Cash since these currencies are governed by the Asian Currency Union (ACU) regulations in India. In order to meet local regulatory requirements, local operations in India have a separate manual mechanism to initiate payments to these countries. Please contact the FX4Cash Product Specialist team for any queries or clarifications on this. – Payments related to income would involve a 10% Income Tax deduction that our local correspondent will settle on behalf of the beneficiary with the tax authority,
Special Formatting / Supporting Documentation Requirements:	– Beneficiary Bank address and branch number is required. While normally a swift code would be preferred, it does not point to an exact branch; therefore it is not preferred in this case – Usage of field 57d will provide additional space for the beneficiary bank detail requirements – On Value date, the local Correspondent/Paying bank will inform Beneficiary bank of the inward remittance. The beneficiary is required to complete an Inward Remittance Form (FORM C) for all payments above USD 20,000 or equivalent, also indicating the purpose of the remittance. After the Paying bank receives the completed form, it will release funds to the Beneficiary bank and the payment normally clears the same day. However delays are rampant. In most cases, the formalities can be completed within 2-5 days, especially if the beneficiary has an account with the Paying bank. However this process can also take weeks after the original value date. Funds are received by the beneficiary depending on the time taken for the beneficiary bank to issue the required forms to the beneficiary and the time taken by the beneficiary to complete & return them – In addition to Form C, the onshore Correspondent bank or Beneficiary bank may request the beneficiary for supporting documentary evidence to establish the identity of the beneficiary and to corroborate the purpose of the remittance i.e. invoices, valid work permit in the case of foreign staff payroll, etc. – While Form C is waived for payments below USD 20,000 the onshore correspondent bank or beneficiary bank may occasionally request it from the beneficiary to verify their identity and confirm the purpose of the payment. – To speed up the completion of the documentation formalities, it is recommended that the Payor provide the Telephone number and Contact person at the beneficiary in the Transaction Details fields of the Payment Instruction

Currency profile – Central African States CFA Franc BCEAO (XOF*)

Benin, Burkina Faso, Guinea-Bissau, Ivory Coast, Mali, Niger, Senegal, Togo

Summary of Restrictions:	– Spot trades only. – Offshore / Non-resident clients can order the purchase of the currency as long as it is for the onward payment to on-shore residents – Depending upon the nature of the transaction, prior approval from the Minister of Finance may be required for trades – Payments for investment purposes should be routed via an appropriate onshore Custodian. Such payments that qualify as Foreign Direct Investment and/or Loan disbursements, are not supported via FX4Cash. Clean payments in this currency for the purpose of Payroll and Goods & Services are acceptable – Foreign Investment and Loans shall be reported to the Central Bank – Separate notification must be given to the Central Bank for each FX transaction – Funds are credited in the beneficiary's account typically by COB Value (Spot) date and are available for withdrawal the following morning. However payments to some locations are not always credited quickly. Local banks often react slowly and chronic power outages in these countries further add to the delays – Return of funds, even where they have been sent in error or for cancellation of trade, can be complicated and time-consuming (typically takes weeks for the funds to be returned) – Inflows need to be reported to the Central Bank. Local on-shore bank will report the inward remittance of USD and subsequent FX deal to Central Bank. No further notification / documentation required – Exchange control restrictions prevent free flow of funds out of zone – Maximum (real-time rate) Trade Limit: USD 5 Million per FX trade. Please contact us for larger amounts.
Special Formatting / Supporting Documentation Requirements:	– While IBAN is considered to be best practice for account number formatting, it is not the preferred formatting in the case of XOF. Local market clearing system's use of the "RIB" 24 digit account number is preferred. Outlined below are the details of the formatting requirement. Using the IBAN will cause delays in payment processing. – Account number is required (24 alphanumeric in length). – Code Banque (Bank code) : 5 characters – Code Agence (Sort Code) : 5 digits – Numéro de compte (Account number): 12 digits – Clé RIB (key): 2 digits – This is a zero decimal currency and therefore does not have cents on the amount. – Beneficiary may be required to provide such documentation as may be requested by the Correspondent Bank or Beneficiary's bank in order to comply with the country's Exchange Control regulations and applicable local banking regulations

4. FX4Cash Receivables – An Overview

FX4Cash Receivables allows clients to streamline receivables processes, simplify settlement instructions communicated to remitters, and consolidate the number of local in-country accounts maintained. Additionally, reporting is available with full details to help reconcile open account receivable items.

The service offers clients the following:
– Define the incoming currencies to be converted into a specified currency and paid to one of client's bank accounts.

– Using existing client account at DB for client's inbound foreign currency payments through nostro currencies for conversion to target currency of that location.

– Virtual Account – A Notional account issued to the client. This account can be specified as a beneficiary account for receiving funds in any valid receivable currency. Virtual accounts always have an underlying real client account either in DB or another bank.

– Receive reports which contain details of receivable transactions and trades.

– Supports wire transactions.

Features:
– Ability to convert incoming receipts into key target currencies.

– Automated, real-time rate conversions available in up to 38 currencies. Currency availability will be specific to each branch.

– Customizable selections for target currencies and their pay out destinations.

– Streamlined Standard Settlement Instructions (SSI).

– A single SSI for all currencies to be converted to another currency (FX4Cash™ SSI).

– Separate SSIs for any currencies that you do not wish to convert (existing SSIs).

– Date Handling – on a best effort basis, settlement of converted funds will be effected as soon as possible (e.g. same / next day or spot).
